Eelco has authored many articles on tax governance and cooperative compliance and is a guest lecturer at various European universities.

Peter van Mierlo
PwC, Partner, Netherlands

Peter was an audit partner for PwC for over 30 years, the last 5 years of which as the CEO of PwC in the Netherlands. He was the CEO of the Dutch entrepreneurial development bank (FMO) from 2018 to 2020. Peter's professional career can be summarized in 10 years of vocational training, 10 years in the field of auditing, 10 years as a Mergers & Acquisition specialist and the last 10 years he served on multiple boards in executive and non-executive roles. (Professional services, Insurance company, Development Bank and not for profit organisations) In all these years Peter has always had a special interest in the societal role and responsibilities of organisations. The tradeoffs between share- and stakeholders, long term versus short term, and how do organisations explain all this to the outside world. Often the financial reporting does not help in understanding these tradeoffs. Strategy reporting is not yet well developed in our world. In terms of governance this area will be the future and there is (truly) a world to win.
