

Are you getting ready for more women in the boardroom?

All around the globe, many boards are working hard to get the best talent around the table and seeing the value diversity of perspective brings in the boardroom. Spencer Stuart is proud to have helped place women in more than 1,400 board director roles around the world. In fact, over 30% of directors placed with help by Spencer Stuart in 2015 were women.

With more than 30 years of experience providing board counsel and recruitment services, Spencer Stuart is uniquely positioned to provide advice on the issues most on the minds of directors today.
